1941 PRIZE GLADIOLUS STOCK
Wentworth Gardens BATTLE CREEK MICHIGAN

Wentworth Seedling

CARDINAL (Wentworth, 1941, Exhibition Scarlet)

Following Wentworth Gardens' policy of introducing an outstanding gladiolus each year, we have selected for 1941, Cardinal, the new vibrant scarlet. This brilliant color will command the immediate attention of everyone who visits your garden. Its full-petaled florets borne on a shoulder-high spike cause Cardinal to be seen figuratively "for miles around."

Cardinal differs from many of the Gladiolus now classed as scarlet, in that it is actually a true scarlet. The five-inch Exhibition type blooms are informally placed on the tapering stem. Foliage is quite green rather than the usual blue-green color. The stem from ground to spike head is long and gives plenty of chance for the correct cutting of a balanced spike.

Cardinal has been viewed by the many visitors to Wentworth Gardens and everyone has been attracted by its color and height. In order to make doubly sure of the ability and worth of this introduction, stock was sent to other growers and test gardens for trial. All reports from these tests assure you of a grand treat when you see Cardinal in your own garden.

From Planting

SPRING Springtime finds us anxious and ready to plant. The depth to plant is the most important item. This runs in direct ratio to the size of bulb. Large bulbs are planted from 4 to 5 inches deep, graduating, according to size, up to 1½ inches deep for bulblets. After setting bulbs in the furrows about three inches apart, cover by hilling dirt above the surface of the ground. About two weeks after planting rake this hill off level and you then will have killed the first crop of weeds.

CULTIVATING

SUMMER The good old summertime, when the Gladiolus bloom, is not spoiled in any way by back-breaking weeding if you practice the hilling-up and raking-off and then follow with another hilling after the plants have grown about a foot high. This second hilling not only smothers the weeds but helps hold the plants upright. When spike heads start showing, apply fertilizer and water to produce larger blooms and better spikes. Now's the time to attend a Gladiolus Show.

to Shipping

FALL The beauty of the summer flowers is supplemented by the beauty of the bulbs you harvest in the fall. These bulbs will reflect the care you have given the plants during the summer, especially in the cutting of the flowers. At least three leaves should have been left when cutting, for it's the leaves that make the bulbs. This year Wentworth Gardens are washing all stock before placing in storage. In this way we will control many diseases, have brighter bulbs, and better blooms.

GRADING

WINTER The time for cleaning, sorting and catalogs. We suggest that at this time you plan your plantings according to color, then size of bloom, just as we have arranged this catalog. The results of such a selection, following our classifications, will be a planting in which you have controlled the color harmony, size of bloom and selection, in each individual size and color class. Such an arrangement will greatly aid your selection for show table entries.

Mostly About People . . .

GEORGE T. WENTWORTH Never of interest to me are facts or pictures of myself. But, according to others, the occasion seemed to demand it, so here I am.

Wentworth Gardens was founded by Mr. M. W. Wentworth in the late twenties. My father and I worked together in hybridizing, collecting information on production and learning variety names by association of color, type and size of bloom.

Upon the death of M. W., as he was so well known, I took up the business and carried on. Since the start, it has been moved from the 20-acre farm to a 220-acre farm which has better bulb soil and plenty of room for rotation.

We hope that some time you will find it possible to visit our fields.

MRS. GEORGE KINYON is a true lover of the wonders of nature and was not satisfied to watch what others had helped nature create.

Long before hybridizing of Gladiolus had become commonplace, Mrs. Kinyon through careful study and painstaking labor succeeded in breeding unusual, new Gladiolus. This labor has been continued for nearly twenty years and has created a beautiful and vigorous strain of Gladiolus.

Out of many thousands of her seedlings, about twenty-five selected varieties have been chosen as her contribution to the improvement of Gladiolus.

PROF. CHESTER F. KUHN has made it possible to complete the cycle for catalog listings by offering you scientifically hybridized Gladiolus seeds.

A great deal of time and study has been given the crosses, as listed on pages 21 and 22. Unique for seed listings is the information and predictions of what you may expect.

These probable predictions can be given because of the tedious and accurate records kept by Professor Kuhn. His right as a professional hybridist is proven by the fact that his seedlings have won 350 first ribbons, 8 cups and several medals in competition against top-ranking named Gladiolus.

Wentworth Grown . . . .

SYLVIA (Kinyon — 1941 — Decorative Salmon Pink) Here is a new Gladiolus variety that has grace, perfection and ability to spare. The exact placement of the ten or twelve open florets, combined with sheer beauty of color, all produced on a harmonious spike, gives Sylvia assurance of a great future. The picture on Page 7 of two field-grown blooms of Sylvia will describe it better than mere words. Its true color and tones are bright pink, blending to a cream-yellow throat.

WENONAH (Kinyon — 1940 — Exhibition Orange Salmon) Only one year from introduction, Wenonah has won its place as a top-notch Gladiolus by all who have seen or grown it. Wenonah, as a seedling, won many awards: American Home Achievement, Michigan Horticultural Society and Michigan Gladiolus Society medals, also the First Class Certificate. Its ability to open 14 Exhibition size blooms on an always straight stem, contributed greatly to its success. See picture on opposite page.

WHITE SPIRE (Kinyon — 1938 — Exhibition White) This Gladiolus has great vigor and ability to produce one of the best and largest pure whites known. The extra large, white blooms produced on such a giant plant make it a veritable spire of white. The petal substance is chamois-like in texture, giving White Spire no peer for lasting or shipping ability.

REFLECTION (Kinyon — 1939 — Exhibition Lavender) If one were to ask which variety was the most beautiful in my garden this past year or the year before that, I would say REFLECTION. There is no more pleasing shade of lavender, or a variety in this color class that has Reflection's ability to produce prize-winning blooms. Reflection opens 6 to 8 five-inch florets on a five-foot spike and is a real thrill to grow.*

IOSCO (Kinyon — 1938 — Exhibition Yellow-Buff) The tallest growing variety in my garden and one you should not pass up. Its six large florets are widely placed on the extra long spike head, giving a long ribbon of color. The yellow-buff color of Iosco is very attractive and lends itself to indoor decoration. Several of our good customers have confirmed our statement that Iosco is the tallest Gladiolus in the garden.

OTHER KINYON ORIGINATIONS We must bring to your attention some of the other Kinyon originations you have already read about, or soon will. Varieties such as the ruffled pure white EMBLEM OF PURITY; the beautiful American Beauty Rose, ROSE OF MICHIGAN; the massive tyrian purple, TYRIAN PRINCESS; the giant OGEMAW; the early and beautiful SO-Big; and lovely NANCY ANN all should find a place in your garden. The quality, beauty and great ability to open large numbers of blooms warrants the respect of everyone for the Kinyon originations.

Wentworth . . .

MADRID (Wentworth) This ruffled, true red has again proven itself in our fields. Other outstanding new and old varieties, in this same general-color class, with their particular merit noted, are: MASTER MYRON, extra tall and large; VALERIA, brilliance of color; HECTOR, early blooming; ARDENT, tall; ALIGHT, large white blotch; J. S. BACH, massive blooming; MAJOR GLADWIN, long color ribbon; REWII FALLU, ruffled dark red.

MARGARET BEATON (Twomey) A truly beautiful white variety with scarlet blotch and honest Exhibition growing ability. In white we must also recommend: SNOW PRINCESS, tall and vigorous. In yellow, we believe ROYAL GOLD, ruffled bright yellow, and AMBERGLOW, tall dark yellow, to be the best so far. In buff we found MEERSCHAUM to be our choice. A strong cream class is improved by the addition of Bingo.

BEAC

Recommends For 1941 . . .

BEACON (Palmer) While not new to Gladiolus fans, Beacon is well worth our recommendation. Its effect of salmon scarlet with a large cream blotch is startling. This is the first season we have been impressed with the "different" Gladiolus. The ones with indescribable colors such as OREGON ROSE and CHAMOUNY, both should be in your garden. Orange UNCAS with its double florets; light rose FESTIVAL QUEEN, and blush ARIADNE are all good.

FLORA FARMER (Quackenbush) A new variety equal to all that has been said for it. Its color, a bright deep pink, and its strong growth, all make it a grand Exhibition variety. There are many fine varieties in this same general color class, such as ROSA VAN LIMA, soft cherry pink with massive blooming ability; MISS NEW ZEALAND that grows too big; VISTA BONITA, the greatly improved Picardy; and the bright reddish-salmon ALADDIN.

IRAK (Mitsch) An unusual shade of lavender gray combined with its extra-long stem and many open blooms, make Irak a favorite smoky. Smoky Gladiolus we liked in particular are: the well-named coppery-rose, CHANGEABLE SILK; and the giant smoky salmon, MAY DAVIDSON. Without question, the best purple is PURPLE BEAUTY, which receives our highest recommendation. In violet or blue class, TUNIA'S BLUE and TUNIA'S BLUE WONDER.

LAST YEAR we illustrated four recommended Gladiolus. Every one of these: EUIDES, VAN TIENHOVEN, GREEN LIGHT and ORANGE BUTTERFLY (illustrated on back cover) have again this past summer proven themselves well worth our recommendations. We cannot picture nor even begin to list on the recommended pages all the new or improved Gladiolus. However each variety we catalog has something to offer you.

Kuhn Hybridized Gladiolus Seed

The unknown, the chance, the unexpected and the realization of your fondest hopes are some of the pleasures in store for those who grow Gladiolus Seed into bulbs and then blooms. Each seed is capable of producing a flower that is in some way different from all other Gladiolus. What a thrill it is to find a Picardy or Maid of Orleans of your own, with perhaps a throat blotch or heavily ruffled petals.

Your family and friends will enjoy, with you, the selection of the color and flower they like best for a namesake. Too, there is always the outside chance of finding a super Gladiolus, the one that will win against all comers on the show table. While it would be very impractical of us to guarantee you success in producing any seedling out of the ordinary or superior, we can assure you of great satisfaction and the ability of the parentage crosses to perform largely as predicted. Seed listed on Pages 21 and 22.

Going Through the Catalog

The story behind the growing of Gladiolus is most interesting. We believe few people realize that the Gladiolus industry is quite big business. It requires hiring a great deal of extra labor, the use of modern tools, building of frost-proof storages, and all the other extra equipment that is needed to handle approximately 250 million bulbs, grown annually throughout the United States, on about 5,000 acres.

The story of Gladiolus cannot be all digging, cleaning and storing, but must also include constant trial of varieties and new introductions, for it is the hybridizers, who are always at work improving and creating new colors and types, that have made this business big and help keep it growing.

Wherever possible we have tried to illustrate what words cannot adequately describe. Our book contains about 27 illustrations on the subject of Gladiolus growing and 15 of these are pictures of different Gladiolus varieties.

There has been quite a change made, this past summer, in our method of handling orders at Wentworth Gardens. We are now able to give you prompt service in the packing and shipping of your order. Another new feature is the washing of all stock, which not only improves looks 100% but cleans off the dirt and allows the bulbs to cure much faster in storage.

The cataloging of hybrid seed should prove of great interest to you. It gives the reasons for each cross and a prediction as to what you may expect, along with a family tree of each parent wherever possible. If you have never grown seedlings, we urge you to try, for this is one of the greatest thrills real fans can experience.

We honestly think this catalog is the most comprehensive Gladiolus book published.

How We Listed Them . . .

For ten years I read Gladiolus catalogs, including my own, and wondered how anyone could ever make a choice of variety or color, out of an alphabetical listing of several hundred varieties. The method of listing perfected (introduced for the first time last year) lists varieties first by color then by size of bloom. However, an Alphabetical Index is also included below.

1941 PREPAID SEED LIST

TERMS:—Seeds shipped Post Paid or included with bulb orders. Bulb discounts do not apply but may be included in the Your Selection Collection on back of Order Blank. Order seeds by the identification number such as 311. The 40 before it is the year hybridized. First parent is the seed parent, second is the pollen parent.

● PRICED:—5 Seeds for $.25; 12 seeds for $.50; 25 Seeds for $.85.

40-301—(LOYALTY Seedling X GREEN LIGHT). The seed parent is a deeper greenish yellow than is GREEN LIGHT and holds more open. This cross should give some interesting greenish cream and greenish yellow seedlings.

40-303—(BLUE WONDER X BLUE BEAUTY Seedling). A combination two great "blue" strains, New Zealand and Pfitzer. This cross will yield a high percentage of violet shades and should give some vigorous seedlings that will hold 6 to 10 florets open at a time.

40-304—(SNOW PRINCESS X SHIRLEY TEMPLE). Pfitzer's always reliable, always straight, always well placed SNOW PRINCESS plus Pruitt's beautiful ruffled cream SHIRLEY TEMPLE, which is a seedling from the cross (Picardy X Ruffled Beauty), should throw some seedlings combining the best features of both parents. That would be something to have.

40-308—(Seedling 36-8027 x Seedling 38-129). 36-8027 is a decorative mauve of great delicacy of coloration, 38-129 (Helena X Gertrude Swenson) is an exhibition type seedling not so clean in color but holding 8 to 10 open. Genealogically this represents Blue Admiral seedling X (Minuet Seedling X Gertrude Swenson). It should yield seedlings in lavender, mauve, violet and purple, some of which should combine long stems, large florets, exhibition flower heads, and many open florets.

40-309 (MEERSCHAUM X (IOSCO X MAGNA BLANCA) Pfitzer's lively colored orange-buff combined with a seedling of Mrs. Kinyon's tall sturdy cream buff and giant cream MAGNA BLANCA, should produce a wide variety of seedlings in both color and form. One thing is sure: you are going to get some extremely tall seedlings out of this cross

40-310 (Seedling 38-66 X Seedling 38-3). 38-66 (Blue Admiral X Mac) is a rose-red with seven inch florets, five open blooms. 38-3 (Aida X Moondara) is also a rose-red with four inch flowers, eight open at a time. The cross aims to produce seedlings in the red and violet shades combining large florets with the many open factor.

40-311 (MR. F. W. DAVIS X VAGABOND PRINCE). This cross involves the mating of selected sister seedlings. Both parents have the same genealogical background (Picardy X Commander Koehl). The cross should produce some fine scarlets, reds and smokies. Watch particularly for the reproduction of that Vagabond Prince blotch.

40-314 (SHIRLEY TEMPLE X SEPTEMBER WHITE). Large flowered, tall growing, never crooking September White should add something to the already fine qualities of Shirley Temple. It was very difficult to set seed on this cross and the crop varies widely in appearance.

40-316 (VAGABOND PRINCE X FRASCATI). This cross is designed to produce blotched varieties. Both parents possess definite and attractive blotches which should carry over into their children. Many different ground colors should result, with an orange-red or rose-red blotch.

40-317 (Seedling 38-250 X Seedling 38-229). 38-250 (Reflection X Maid of Orleans) is a beautiful lavender but rather short. 38-229 (Snow Princess X Magna Blanca) is a clear white and very tall. The combination should develop seedlings of real merit in white, cream, pink and lavender. The throats should be clear for the most part with an occasional appearance of the yellowish cream of Magna Blanca.

40-319 (Seedling 36-50 X INCENSE). Fragrance is again the object. 36-50 (Rosemarie Pfitzer X Incense) is a large flowered, ruffled clear pink, not fragrant. The present cross aims to backbreed with Incense in an attempt to double up the fragrant factor and yet retain the large floret of Seedling 36-50.

40-320 (SEPTEMBER WHITE X MAID OF ORLEANS). Two beautiful whites, one large flowered, the other medium, both strong, vigorous and healthy. The produce should be definitely good seedlings in white cream and pink.

40-322 (J. S. BACH X RED GIANT). The purpose of this cross is to develop seedlings with the vigor and the free opening habits of J. S. BACH plus better placement and longer flower-head. Scarlets, reds and rose-reds with many open florets should appear amongst the seedlings.

40-323 (PICARDY X MEMORY OF HINDENBURG). Frankly this cross was motivated by the fine results gained from earlier crosses of Picardy and Commander Koehl. Picardy seems to combine particularly well with Pfitzer's reds, and this cross might be expected to turn out good seedlings in a wide range of color: salmon, salmon-pink, scarlet, red and smoky.

40-325 (AMULET X ARETHUSA). Here we are looking for ruffled seedlings. Amulet is a seedling of (Picardy X Wasagal) and Arethusa is a seedling of (Brightside X Rosemarie Pfitzer). This cross therefore brings together not only two intensely ruffled varieties but two separate strains of ruffled Gladiolus as well. Many ruffled seedlings should result. Seeds were set only with great difficulty and the supply is limited.

40-326 (TUNIA'S BLUE X ATLAS). The two best dark violet Gladiolus and the two best violet strains, New Zealand and Pfitzer, are here combined. Red, rose-red, dark red and violet seedlings should result.

40-327 (TAKINA X STAPLEFORD). This crosses two excellent purple varieties. Tall growth, large florets, many open florets are some of the characteristics to be expected in the seedlings from this cross. Color should vary from red through the entire violet range, including dark red and purple.

40-329 (REFLECTION X LAVENDER QUEEN). To cross a new Kinyon lavender with a new Arenius lavender is to bring together the World's finest strains of lavender Gladiolus. Reflection is a clear light lavender with heavy spike, Lavender Queen is a dark lavender in the Arenius tradition: tall growing, graceful spike. The resultant seedlings should run through all shades of lavender and mauve as well as rose-pink, rose-red and violet.

40-302 (GRETA GARBO X RIMA). This cross brings together two of the finer newer Gladiolus. RIMA is a Picardy seedling, the result of crossing Picardy with a seedling (Longfellow X Pearl of California). The present cross combines this genealogical background with the cream of the Pfitzer strain. This cross should yield some excellent large florets in cream, blush, lavender, rose-pink.

40-305 (STAPLEFORD X TUNIA'S BLUE WONDER).

One of the best new purples, Stapleford crossed with one of the best new violets should yield seedlings in all shades of violet, rose-pink, and purple with ability to hold 8 to 10 florets open at a time.

40-306 (MYRNA X GRETA GARBO). Pfitzer's giant soft rose crossed with Pruitt's gorgeous ruffled cream seedling of Maid of Orleans is a combination to stir the imagination. If it yielded nothing more than a larger flowered, taller growing MYRNA or a ruffled GRETA GARBO, it would be successful. Not many seeds available.

40-307 (MYRNA X YELLOW GOLD). This cross is designed to get a yellow MYRNA. Genealogically it represents seedling (Maid of Orleans X ?) X Seedling (Yellowstone, X Golden Dream). It should give white, cream, and yellow seedlings with 6 to 8 florets open at a time.

40-312 (MEMORY OF HINDENBURG X ARDENT).

Two outstanding new reds are here combined: the tall massive Pfitzer variety with its faulty floret attachment and the tall, graceful Mitsch seedling of (Picardy X Commander Koehl), with smaller florets but excellent attachment of floret. Scarlets, reds, and smokies should result.

40-313 (VALERIA X PAUL GRAMPEL). This cross is the union of two excellent clear scarlet varieties and of two widely separated red strains: the Pfitzer and the Pruitt, which has Dr. F. E. Bennett in it. Some rich red and scarlet seedlings of decorative type should come from this cross.

40-315 (FRASCATI X SO-BIG). This cross brings together two of the more interesting new rose-pink varieties. Frascati is a strong, straight grower, with a rather fragile rose-pink blush ground color. So-Big is a strong, massive plant with large florets and a very definite and pleasing rose-pink color. Pink, lavender, mauve and rose-pink seedlings should occur.

40-318 (Seedling 34-61 X Seedling 38-234). Fragrance is the object of this cross. 34-61 (Aida X Mibloom) is a slightly fragrant salmon-pink, small decorative. 38-234 (Rosemarie Pfitzer X Incense) is a large flowered lavender blush. The present cross brings together two favorite fragrant strains, Mibloom and Incense, and should yield some fragrant species.

40-321 (LORD SELKIRK X MATTERHORN). The famous Lord Selkirk (Mrs. Anna Pfitzer X Queen Mary) plus X-ray treatment of seed, is here combined with one of Pfitzer's many good clean white. Seedlings should run primarily in white and cream and certainly ought to show the capacity to open at least 8 to 10 florets at one time.

40-324 (PICARDY X VISTA BONITA). Look for large flowered, tall growing pinks, salmon pinks and buffs from this cross. Seeds limited in number.

40-328 (WHITE SPIRE X LORD SELKIRK). Mrs. Kinyon's grand white is here united to the famous Twomey origination. Whites, creams and pinks of large size and great florescence may be expected.

KUHN'S WHOPPER MIXED SEED AND SEEDLING BULB COLLECTION

Don't deny yourself the Glad-fan's greatest accomplishment any longer. Have your own seedlings in bloom in your garden this very summer, while you are growing some seed into bulbs for next summer's bloom. Each one of the seedling bulbs is the only one than 100 of the most outstanding modern Gladiolus, including many of the new high-priced varieties, such as Madrid, Cardinal, Myrna, Camellia, Camrose, Raysheen, Paul Grampel, Pfitzer's Masterpiece, Snow Princess, Atlas, etc. You can't beat this for value.

SELECTED SEEDLING BULBS COLLECTION

Seldom if ever have you been able to buy bulbs grown directly from seed—bulbs, some of which have never bloomed nor shown the secret of the potential beauty and size they are capable of producing. Each one of these bulbs will give you a different color, shade, hue, combination of colors, or type and size of floret, or in some other way be different from any other Gladiolus. We cannot tell you what to expect as we do not know if there is a glistening pure white, a navy blue, a giant blotched smoky or a ruffled scarlet. But we do know you will be greatly pleased with each different bloom.
